

COMMUNICATIONS

Campaigns reach the voters through communications including television, radio and Internet advertising, mailers, billboards, precinct walking and flyers. The Political Reform Act (“Act”) requires reporting of most payments in connection with political communications and requires “Ad paid for by” disclosures on ads placed by general purpose committees on candidates and measures to inform voters who is paying for a communication.

This chapter reviews common communications in a campaign and how payments for the communications are required to be reported. The next chapter discusses the disclosure requirements that apply to political communications.

A. Payments for Communications

Nonmonetary Contributions. Generally speaking, when a general purpose committee pays for a communication supporting or opposing a candidate or ballot measure, the general purpose committee has made a nonmonetary contribution to that committee if the general purpose committee was coordinating with the candidate or measure committee.

Reporting Nonmonetary Contributions: When a general purpose committee makes a payment for a communication that is a contribution, both the general purpose committee and the candidate or committee receiving the benefit report the contribution on a campaign statement.

Independent Expenditures. A general purpose committee may also make “independent expenditures” supporting or opposing a candidate or measure. If a general purpose committee spends money for communications to support or oppose a candidate or a measure without coordinating with the affected candidate or ballot measure committee, the general purpose committee’s expenditures are considered to be independent expenditures.

Reporting Independent Expenditures: When a general purpose committee makes payments for communications that are independent expenditures, only the general purpose committee will report the payments on its campaign statements. Committees that are the beneficiaries of independent expenditures do not report them. A general purpose committee making independent expenditures on a candidate or a ballot measure must file additional reports, including 24-hour reports and verifications. (See Chapter 11.)

There is an exception for certain “member communications” sent solely to an entity or organization’s employees, shareholders, or members, as discussed below.

B. Coordinated Communications

When a general purpose committee pays for a communication that is coordinated with or “made at the behest of” a candidate’s committee or ballot measure committee, the communication is a nonmonetary contribution to that committee.

Coordination – “Made at the Behest”

“Coordinated” or “made at the behest” means made at the request, suggestion, or direction of, or in cooperation, consultation or coordination with the committee for whose benefit the expenditure is made.

A payment is coordinated with or “made at the behest” of a candidate or ballot measure committee under each of the following situations:

- It is made at the request, suggestion, or direction of, or in cooperation, consultation or coordination with the committee for whose benefit the expenditure is made.
- The committee or their agents have made or participated in making any decision about the content, timing, location, mode, intended audience, distribution, or frequency of placing the communication.

- The creator, producer, or distributor of the communication, or person paying for the communication has had discussion and agreement with the committee, or its agents, regarding the content, timing, location, mode, intended audience, distribution, or placement of the communication.

Ex 8.1 – A general purpose recipient committee printed campaign literature stating “Vote for Banks.” The communication included Banks’ photograph, which was obtained from the Banks re-election committee’s website. The general purpose committee did not in any other way coordinate with the Banks campaign in producing the campaign literature. The general purpose committee made an independent expenditure, not a contribution to Banks’ committee.

On the other hand, if the general purpose committee contacted Banks’ political consultant and arranged for a professional photographer to meet with them for the purpose of taking photographs for the mailer, the general purpose committee would be making a nonmonetary contribution to Banks’ committee.

There is a rebuttable presumption that an expenditure is coordinated with or “made at the behest of” a committee if:

- Committee’s Needs. It is based on information about the committee’s campaign needs or plans provided to the expending person by the committee, such as information concerning messaging, planned expenditures, or polling data.
- Agent. It is made by or through any agent of the committee in the course of the agent’s involvement in the current campaign.

“Current campaign” means the period beginning 12 months prior to the date of the primary or special election in which the candidate is on the ballot for an elective office and ending on the date of the general or special runoff election for that office. For a measure, “current campaign” means the period beginning 12 months prior to the date of the election in which the measure is on the ballot.

- Common Consultants. The person making the expenditure retains the services of a person who provides either the candidate or the committee supporting or opposing the ballot measure with professional services related to campaign or fundraising strategy for the current campaign.
- Republication. The communication reproduces, republishes, or disseminates a communication designed, produced, paid for, or distributed by the committee in whole or substantial part.
- Fundraising. The committee making the expenditure is primarily formed to support the candidate or oppose their opponent and in the course of the current campaign, the candidate who benefits from the expenditure solicits funds for or appears as a speaker at a fundraiser for the committee making the expenditure.
- Former Staff. The person making the expenditure is established, run, or staffed in a leadership role, by an individual who previously worked in a senior position or advisory capacity on the candidate's or officeholder's staff within the current campaign.
- Candidate's Family. The person making the expenditure is established, run, staffed in a leadership role, or principally funded by an individual who is an immediate family member of the candidate.

However, an expenditure is not coordinated with or made at the behest of a candidate or committee merely because:

- Interview. A person interviews the committee or committee's agent on issues affecting the person making the expenditure.
- Photograph or Press Release. The person making the expenditure has obtained a photograph, position paper, press release, or similar material from the committee or the committee's agents.

- General Request for Support. The person makes the expenditure in response to a general, non-specific request for support by a candidate or committee, provided that there is no discussion with the candidate or committee prior to the expenditure relating to details of the expenditure.
- Meeting with Members or Employees. The person making the expenditure has invited committee representatives to make a public appearance before the person's members, employees, shareholders, or their families provided that there is no discussion with the committee prior to the expenditure related to details of the expenditure.
- Prior Contribution. The person making the expenditure has made a contribution to the candidate or committee.
- Informed after the Expenditure is Made. A person informs a candidate or committee that the person has made an expenditure, provided that there is not exchange of information, not otherwise available to the public, relating to details of the expenditure.
- Expenditure Benefits Another Candidate or Committee. The expenditure is made at the request or suggestion of the candidate or committee for the benefit of another candidate or committee.
- Hyperlink. The communication includes a hyperlink to the Internet website or other social media page of a candidate or ballot measure committee.

If a general purpose committee places an online advertisement supporting a candidate and the advertisement, without consultation or coordination with the candidate or candidate's committee, links to the candidate's or committee's web page or other information posted by the candidate or committee, the presence of the link itself does not mean that the advertisement was coordinated with or "made at the behest of" the candidate.

Ex 8.2 – A local tax measure would increase the benefits provided to police and firefighters. Representatives from both of the general purpose committees that represent the police and firefighters meet to review polls on the likelihood the measure will pass. Each committee then makes separate expenditures in connection with supporting the measure. Under these facts, neither PAC is making a contribution to the other.

If two or more general purpose committees exchange information between or among themselves, subsequent expenditures by each committee are not, merely by reason of that exchange, considered to be coordinated with or “made at the behest of” the other committee.

The determination as to whether a communication is considered independent or made at the behest of a candidate or committee is based on specific facts. Contact the FPPC for assistance.

C. Independent Expenditures

When a general purpose committee makes an expenditure for a communication supporting or opposing a candidate or ballot measure that is not coordinated with the candidate or measure committee, it is making an independent expenditure. An independent expenditure is a payment for a communication that:

- Expressly advocates the election or defeat of a clearly identified candidate or the qualification, passage or defeat of a clearly identified measure, and
- The communication is not coordinated with or “made at the behest” of the affected committee.

Clearly Identified

A communication clearly identifies a candidate or ballot measure when the candidate's name, photograph, or status as a candidate or officeholder is used, or the measure's name, popular title, or official title is used. Some flyers may mention a group of candidates by some well-defined characteristic of the group. Even if no specific names are used, these too may be communications which clearly identify candidates.

Express Advocacy

A communication expressly advocates support of or opposition to a clearly identified ballot measure under the following scenarios:

- Magic Words. The communication uses words such as “vote for,” “elect,” “cast your ballot,” or “defeat.”
- Unambiguously Urges. The communication is made within 60 days prior to an election and the communication refers to a clearly identified candidate or ballot measure so that when, taken as a whole, it unambiguously urges a particular result in an election. The message must be susceptible of no reasonable interpretation other than as an appeal to vote for or against a specific candidate or ballot measure.

A committee or person making independent expenditures must be aware that the communication cannot be coordinated with the affected candidate or measure committee. If there is coordination, the payments are reported as contributions.

Ex 8.3 – A general purpose committee paid $4,000 for a newspaper ad stating “Vote for Measure A.” The communication expressly advocates support for a clearly identified ballot measure. It must be reported by the general purpose committee either as a contribution or independent expenditure, depending upon whether it was coordinated with a primarily formed ballot measure committee.

Later, the same general purpose committee paid $2,000 for post card-sized flyers that simply stated, “Vote on Election Day.” This communication is not reported as a contribution or independent expenditure because it did not expressly advocate support of or opposition to a clearly identified measure.

D. Other Communications

Endorsements

An endorsement of a candidate or measure may become a contribution or an independent expenditure when a payment is made in connection with the endorsement.

Social Media – Internet Communications

Uncompensated Internet activity by an individual, such as sending or forwarding electronic messages, social networking, blogging, creating or hosting a website, to support or oppose a candidate or ballot measure is not considered a contribution or an expenditure.

When a PAC blogs or posts communications that expressly advocate a candidate or measure, the advertisement is subject to disclosure requirements. Depending upon the communication and the cost to prepare the communication, a contribution will be reportable.

Ex 8.4 – The president of a police officers’ association announces at its annual meeting that the association endorses county Measure Y. Merely making an oral endorsement is not a contribution or independent expenditure to the committee supporting Measure Y.

Closer to the election, in coordination with the committee formed to support Measure Y, the association mails a special flyer to the voters announcing its endorsement. The association has now made a nonmonetary contribution to the Measure Y committee.

E. Advertisement Reports

Communications Identifying State Candidates (Form E-530)

If a general purpose committee makes a payment or a promise of a payment totaling $50,000 or more for a communication disseminated within 45 days of an election that clearly identifies a candidate for elective state office but does not expressly advocate the election or defeat of the candidate, the committee must report the payment. The committee must file Form E-530 with the Secretary of State within 48 hours.

If the communication is made at the behest of the candidate, the general purpose committee is subject to the political party contribution limits of $45,500 (2023-2024 limit) per contributor. Once a general purpose committee receives a contribution in excess of that contribution limit, the committee may not make a payment for such a communication. (See Chapter 5.)

“Thank you Senator Ramos for supporting seismic retrofitting and the jobs it creates.”

Ex 8.5 – A general purpose committee may establish a social media account (e.g., Facebook, X [formerly known as Twitter], Tumblr) to engage in campaign activity, such as posts or tweets to support candidates and ballot measures. See Chapter 9 for information about required disclosure for advertisements.

Ballot Measure Ad – Paid Spokesperson Report (Form 511)

When a general purpose committee pays an individual for their appearance in a ballot measure advertisement, the committee must file a Paid Spokesperson Report (Form 511) and include a disclosure on the ad in the following situations:

- $5,000 payment to an individual in a ballot measure ad: The committee makes expenditures totaling $5,000 or more to an individual for their appearance in an advertisement to support or oppose the qualification, passage or defeat of a state or local ballot measure.
- Any payment to an individual in a ballot measure ad portraying a professional (nurse, doctor, firefighter, scientist, engineer, lawyer, etc.): The committee makes expenditures of any amount to an individual for their appearance in an advertisement to support or oppose the qualification, passage or defeat of a state or local ballot measure that states or suggests that the individual is a member of an occupation that requires licensure, certification, or other specialized, documented training to engage in that occupation.

See Chapter 9 for information about the advertisement disclosure requirements.

Ex 8.6 – Two weeks before a 2024 election in which State Senator Ramos will be listed on the ballot, a general purpose committee pays more than $50,000 for billboard ads in Ramos’ district stating “Thank you Senator Ramos for your support of high speed rail.” The ads do not advocate Ramos’ election, but include Ramos’ name and image and were approved by Ramos. The general purpose committee must file an E-530 report and is subject to a contribution limit of $45,500 (2023-2024 limit) in a calendar year from a single source.

When to File Form 511

A committee that makes an expenditure identified above must file the Form 511 within 10 days. An expenditure is made on the date the payment is made or the date the services are received, whichever is earlier.

Where to File Form 511

State Committees: File Form 511 with the Secretary of State. Committees required to E-file must also file a paper copy. Filers required to file a report or statement by paper with the Secretary of State may instead file the paper report or statement by email. All statements must be signed using a verified digital signature. Please access the Secretary of State’s website for more information on how to file with a digital signature.

Local Committees: File Form 511 in the same location the committee files its regular campaign statements (i.e., Form 460).

Completing Form 511

1 Name of Filer/Committee Information

Provide the committee's full name, street address, city, state, zip code, telephone number, and the committee's identification number.

2 Payments Made

Provide the date the payments were made or the services were received, whichever is earlier. Indicate the name and address of the individual who was paid to appear in the advertisement. The occupation of a spokesperson is also required when an expenditure of any amount is paid to an individual for their appearance in an advertisement that supports or opposes the qualification, passage, or defeat of a state or local ballot measure and the advertisement states or suggests that the individual is a member of an occupation that requires licensure, certification, or other specialized, documented training as a prerequisite to engage in that occupation.

Provide the name, number or letter, and jurisdiction of the ballot measure supported or opposed by the advertisement and indicate the total amount of the expenditure.

3 Verification

The committee treasurer or the assistant treasurer must complete the verification. The statement is signed under penalty of perjury that the information is true and correct. The Form 511 is not considered filed if it is not signed.

Amendments

To amend a previously filed Form 511, file another Form 511. Check the “Amendment” box and give a brief description of the amendment. Enter the committee’s name and address, and disclose the amended information. Like the original, the amendment must be signed and dated. There is no deadline for filing amendments. However, amendments should be filed as soon as practicable. The amendment is filed in the same location(s) the original was filed.

Ex 8.7 – The League of Women Voters invited the proponent and an opponent of Proposition 310 to speak at a forum. Only the proponent attended. Because both sides of the ballot measure were invited, the cost of the meeting is not a contribution to the committee established to support the measure.

Ex 8.8 – At a union’s regularly scheduled monthly meeting, a representative for the proponent of Proposition 310 was invited to solicit votes. The union did not incur any additional costs in connection with the speaker’s presentation, so no contribution was made.

F. Non-Contributions

There are some communications that are not considered to be contributions, although payments made by a general purpose committee in connection with these communications would be reportable expenditures.

Debates

If an organization or entity hosts a debate or other forum and invites at least two opposing candidates or the proponent of a ballot measure and at least one opponent, or their respective representatives, to participate in equal numbers, a payment for the event is not a contribution to the candidate or ballot measure committees.

Meetings

A payment made by a bona fide service, social, business, trade, union, or professional organization for reasonable overhead expenses associated with a regularly-scheduled meeting at which a candidate or an individual representing either side of a ballot measure speaks is not a contribution, if the organization pays no additional costs in connection with the speaker's attendance.

Non-Political Communications

A payment made at the behest of a candidate for a communication by the candidate or any other person is not a contribution to the candidate if the communication:

- Does not contain express advocacy;
- Does not make reference to the candidate's election campaign, or their opponent's qualifications for office; or
- Does not solicit contributions to the candidate or to third persons for use in support of or opposition to the candidate.

Voter Registration

A payment made at the behest of a candidate or ballot measure committee as part of voter registration or get-out-the-vote activities is not a contribution if the communication does not expressly advocate support of or opposition to the candidate or ballot measure.

Ex 8.9 – At the behest of a state candidate, a general purpose committee paid for a nonpartisan voter registration booth at a local fair. No other literature was distributed at the booth. The payment for the voter registration booth was not a contribution to the candidate.

Member Communications

Payments made by an organization or its sponsored committee for a communication that supports or opposes a candidate or ballot measure are not contributions or expenditures as long as the communication is made only to the organization's members, employees, or shareholders, or the families of its members, employees, or shareholders. The payments may not be for general public advertising, such as billboards, newspaper ads, or radio or television ads. If made by the organization's sponsored committee, the committee would report the payments as being made for general member communications.

Payments made by a political party for a communication that supports or opposes a candidate or ballot measure are not contributions as long as the communication is distributed only to the party's members, employees, and families of its members and employees. However, the party must report the payments as if they were contributions or independent expenditures.

QUICK TIP: Political party committees have different reporting requirements for member communications.

If a communication is sent to members and nonmembers, the committee may allocate the portion of the costs associated with communicating with nonmembers as a contribution or independent expenditure.

However, if the communication is inadvertently sent to nonmembers and the costs do not exceed $100 or 5% of the total cost of the communication, whichever is higher, the entire communication is considered a member communication.

Other communications, such as a sponsoring organization's solicitations for contributions for its committee, are not considered "member communications" and are contributions to the committee.

Ex 8.10 – A corporation's sponsored PAC sends a mailing supporting a ballot measure to the corporation's shareholders. The mailing is not a contribution to the ballot measure committee whose position is supported, nor is it an independent expenditure. Later, at the behest of the ballot measure committee, the PAC sends the mailing to all registered voters in the district where the measure will appear on the ballot. The mailing to the voters is a nonmonetary contribution.

Ex 8.11 – The California Tree Doctors Association collects and transmits dues earmarked by its members for political purposes to its sponsored committee. In December, the Association sends a special mailing to its members to raise additional funds for the upcoming state elections. The committee must disclose the payments made by the Association for the solicitation mailing on Schedule C of the Form 460 as nonmonetary contributions from the Association (rather than administrative services). The following year, the Association sends a letter to its members recommending candidates running in the upcoming state election. The payments for this mailing qualify as "member communications" and, therefore, are not contributions to the committee or to the candidates. Neither the Association or the candidates must report the costs of the mailing. (Note: If the sponsored committee paid for the member communication the payments would be reported on Schedule E or F of the Form 460.)

Definition of “Member”

A member is any person who, according to a specific provision of an organization’s articles or bylaws, has the right to vote for the election of a director or an officer or on a disposition of all or substantially all of the assets of the organization or on a merger or on a dissolution.

A member is also any person who is designated in the articles or bylaws as a member and, according to a specific provision of an organization’s articles or bylaws, has the right to vote on changes to the articles or bylaws, or pays or has paid membership dues in an amount predetermined by the organization so long as the organization is tax exempt under 26 U.S.C. 501(c). Members of a local union are considered to be members of any national or international union of which the local union is a part and of any federation with which the local, national, or international union is affiliated.

For more information about member communications, see Regulation 18531.7 or contact the FPPC.

QUICK TIP: People who are only on a mailing or contact list for the organization are not “members” of the organization.

Ex 8.12 – The River City Rowing Club’s bylaws require payment of membership dues in order to vote for officers of the club. The club also has a mailing list of individuals that do not pay dues, but receive the club’s literature. When the club sends a mailer supporting or opposing candidates and measures, they do not send the communication to the mailing list of non-members. Therefore, the mailing qualifies as a “member communication” and the payments made are not contributions or independent expenditures.

Ex 8.13 – The California Association of Vegetarians has decided to send a campaign brochure supporting the three Green Party candidates running for statewide office to its members. Upon hearing of the plan, Friends of the California Environment offers to pay for the communication. The total cost of the communication is $15,000. The payments are made at the behest of each candidate, and each will be featured equally on the flyer. Because the association is not paying for the communication, it does not meet the definition of a “member communication.” Friends must report making a contribution to the three candidates of $5,000 each. Contribution limits apply.

Third Party Payments for Member Communications

To meet the exception to the definition of contribution or expenditure, the payment for the communication must be paid by the committee or its sponsor. If a third party makes the payment in coordination with the committee or organization, the payment is considered a contribution or expenditure, subject to any applicable limits and reporting requirements.

News Stories

A payment for the cost of publishing or broadcasting a news story, commentary, or editorial is not a contribution when the payment is made by a federally regulated broadcast outlet or a regularly published newspaper, magazine, or other periodical of general circulation that routinely carries news, articles, and commentary of general interest.
